

Eco-Poverty and Plastic Waste

Session 2: Takeaways

Paola Benvenuto, Maria Guadenzi, Laura Frigo, Giorgia Volpe

Session 2 – Best practices from the field

Waste represents value to be appreciated more to produce more resources – and spill over implication (employability, social inclusion, etc..)

Involving all actors is the main road to ensure long-term sustainability, including ethnic minorities.

Biodegradability, renewability and composability play a crucial role to reduce our waste and increase food security as well.

Sustainability: engagement of local stakeholders
